It may take a generation to undo the hate.

But you can do something about that— by promising that every California student has an adult that cares. And by supporting our teachers and school staff to make this possible.

Moved by what you saw? Take a moment to share the video with someone who believed in you.